

A private, all-ages family room — no strangers, no ads, no open internet.

KinClub replaces isolating screen time with shared games, creativity, and learning — a digital family room for grandparents, parents, and kids alike, built to replace the six or eight separate apps families already juggle to stay connected. Mainstream social media isn't safe or healthy for kids, and a scheduled video call with abuela is clunky and forgotten in ten minutes. Inside, families play, create, learn, and share — building shared moments that carry over to the dinner table.

Inside the app

ABOUT KINCLUB

KinClub is a private family connection platform for iOS, Android, and web, built by Kinovate Ventures, Inc. in Ithaca, NY. Each KinClub is a private space that belongs to one family — giving grandparents, parents, and kids a place, away from public social media, to play games, share moments, and stay close across generations.
